

Written and composed by youth for those who are youthful;

the graduates of 1970 present . . .

A teenager
of the seventies
... eagerly
reaching for the joy
with fervor and fun
... growing
amid friction and tension
... striving
to share deeply and
to love fully.

Reflect on events —
Here, they are real. . . .
memories, within make pictures their captor

The light is allowed to come . . . and pass on 'til tomorrow.
As the Youth of today must come and light us:
and pass their Youth to heirs abundant.

This book has focused on, written about, photographed, editorialized and exalted YOUTH, through the efforts of the MOUNTAINEER Staff.

Life is like a tree:
it grows, it matures, it influences all around it;
but it does not die, it is transformed so that others may grow—mature and influence.

We would like to dedicate this page to someone who was youthful in age and in spirit. He was with us for a short time for his Creator found that his young life of goodness and love was to be shared more deeply with his Creator and so he was brought to his fullness of life with God.

My we be able to share a little of his fullness of Christian living, as

RAY DAVIDSON

now shares it, while we are still in the sunshina of our youth.
